

Media ownership is already too concentrated in this country; large, unresponsive corporations are paying too little attention to local needs. I hope the commission will reject this effort to further concentrate media ownership, and instead work to roll it back. At the very least there should be further study.

It is not anti-business to encourage small business and entrepreneurship in media ownership.